WHEREAS The Assembly of First Nations (AFN) Chiefs Committee on Health (CCOH) passed a motion on June 23, 2009 to support the establishment of a First Nations Information Governance Centre as a stand alone entity. The AFN Executive Committee agreed on July 19, 2009; and

WHEREAS a Resolution was passed at the AFN Special Chiefs Assembly in December 2009 in support of a National Stand Alone Entity; and

WHEREAS This new Centre will be structured as a national hub, with satellite regional offices, similar to the current RHS model, that will support and house the First Nations Regional Longitudinal Health Survey (RHS) as well as other research, information management and surveillance initiatives; and

WHEREAS The Centre will promote, protect and advance the First Nations Ownership, Control, Access and Possession (OCAP) principles, the Inherent Right to self determination and jurisdiction in research and information management; and

WHEREAS The Centre will build the research and information management capacity of First Nations, serve as a training centre, support knowledge transfer, act as a data repository and be the premier source of relevant, quality information and data on the social, health and wellness of First Nations which will serve to support policy development and informed decision making at all levels; and

WHEREAS The RHS has evolved to a level of development at the regional and national levels whereby a dedicated, self sufficient First Nations Information Governance Centre comprised of regional satellite offices and a central office is now required to ensure a strong research and data collection and protection process that is compliant with a First Nations cultural framework and the principles of Ownership, Control, Access and Possession (OCAP) and will remain accountable to the First Nations communities and leadership; and

WHEREAS The AFN adhering to First Nations regional approval processes will communicate and seek approval, by resolution, on a proposed federally incorporated framework, organization and accountability structure of the Centre; and

The Centre will seek and capitalize on funding opportunities that target First Nations information, research, training and data activities which can best be addressed through this First Nations driven and accountable organization. Funding allocations for completion of the RHS will be transferred to this new Centre; and
